

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

G. W. P. appointed the following committees :

On the State of the Order—S. L. Carleton, Perry Gilman, Z. Pope Vose, Joshua Towle.

On Appeals—B. F. Thorndike, J. W. Jacob, H. Q. Norton.

On Finance—J. M. Jones, J. J. Bell, Geo. W. White.

On Reports—J. S. Kimball, Fred. N. Dow, H. J. Woods.

G. W. P. reported :

Officers and Brothers of the Grand Division:

Through the goodness and mercy of the all-wise and omnipotent Ruler of the universe, we are permitted peacefully to assemble in the quiet city of Belfast,—a spot which although once harrassed by the presence of a hostile foe, now affords us a quiet meeting place, whilst so large a portion of our beloved land is torn and distracted by the horrors of internal discord and revolution. Scenes, that however dreadful, appear permitted that the foundation of our personal freedom and civil and social rights may be based on firmer ground.

Doubtless, since our last meeting, many members of our Order have been laid low, by war and its contingent evils, while others drag out a lingering existence in the prisons of our ruthless foe. For the former it is but fitting that we should indeed mourn. Those bound to us by love in life must fall honored and lamented in death; and the passing tribute of a tear to the memory of the cherished and lost, is due to the recollection of the common ties that bound us.

Amidst the appalling scenes which are passing around us, and the tumult of the waves and billows of popular excitement, it is evident that our good ship is tightly built, as she still rides the waves unscathed.

Notwithstanding the vast disadvantages under which we labor, and the fact that many Divisions have ceased to report, or become extinct, your G. W. P. discovers, in condensing and comparing the various reports of his Deputies, that much still exists to encourage and stimulate us to pursue the noble work so ably and well begun, and on which the Divine blessing has seemed so palpably to rest.

It is pleasing to observe that nearly all Divisions report a strict compliance with the Constitution, deeming it the best helmsman to keep their course clear from trouble. In but one instance does want of harmony appear reported, and in this it arises from the baneful practice of introducing outside difficulties into our Hall—a practice that no language can too strongly condemn. Let our conduct in Division ever exhibit that manly frankness and courtesy which we have vowed to uphold—demeaning ourselves as christians and as gentlemen. May these remarks suffice to warn all of future breaches of our cardinal attribute—LOVE. No point is more forcibly alluded to by my deputies than the deep interest our sisters take, not only in Division but by more substantial evidences of their zeal. May they ever be thus foremost and active in every good and noble work. The poet Moore tells us to “Remember wherever the goblet goes round,

’Tis WOMAN’s dear smile adorns it at home.”

We find our Order upsetting Moore’s poetic reverie.

Bro. Sylvester, of Etna, tells us :

“WOMAN is the strength and support of our Division. Our sisters take great interest in the work—but further privileges accorded to them would be for our and their benefit.

Bro. Woodbury of Crystal Lake also deems woman’s smile to be brighter elsewhere than “o’er the circling wine cup,” adding : “of visitors we have quite a number, true and faithful—of whom I feel justly proud. But there is a class of visitors whose utility is questionable.”

But the bee predominates over the butterfly in the case of Harmony Division, of which Bro. Clark, D. G. W. P., says : Our sisters are ALL good workers and without them our hall would indeed be dreary.”

In Pioneer Division the Ladies’ work for the past quarter is reported as nobly done.

The result of my Deputies’ reports convinces me that the co-operation of woman has been the great main-stay of our Order, and as her smile is a panacea to our ills, so her presence will ever be an incentive to pure motives and great and noble deeds.

Our Order has looked too long on ardent spirits as the greatest danger in the navigation of the sea of life. Prior to the Temperance Movement these rocks were but little dreaded. But when their perils were pointed out, and our organizations erected beacons on these shoals, men began to see their fatal character. Our Order has erected stately beacons on Gin Rock, Rum Shoals and Whiskey Ledge. But while Soylla thus warns the mariner, and the voice of Temperance from each crag and beetling cliff shouts—"Beware, beware!" we have yet left totally unmarked a Charybdis ten-fold more fatal than the rocks which rear their bold heads above water. I here refer to those whirlpools Beer Eddy and Ale Run. These are the yet neglected currents whose soft ripples beguile the careless and young, and whose end is to grasp them in their dread vortex, and dash them to utter ruin against the rocks which at first they would boldly shun. Do our labors cease with Rum, Gin and Brandy. No! The unseen currents which lead on to these, claim, if possible, our still greater attention. These, under the subtle garb of harmless beverages, are kept in our hotels, shops and saloons, and retailed daily in quantities that would be incredible to the uninitiated. Young men, who would scorn to touch brandy to their lips, eagerly quaff the less potent, but more dangerous cup, and no more surely does the Maelstrom enfold its victim, than the alcoholic principle begets a craving for an increased stimulus, and thus onward and onward lures the genteel toper to a grave of woe. Thousands of youth in our State are now in the process of transformation under this dread influence, and thousands have already run the sad race, having entered that unbeaconed tide. Shall we erect no land-mark—shall we still leave this fatal tide without as bright a light or beacon as marks the stronghold of gin, rum, or brandy? It is for us to do our duty and leave the result to God. We have now a committee on the Ale question. May their deliberations, quickened by our action thereon, be one step towards directing popular opinion and public sentiment in the right direction, on a question of as vital importance as ever senate legislated upon. While upon this question, I cannot do better than quote the words of our worthy brother and co-laborer, E. H. Burr, Deputy of Brewer Division, No. 46.

He says: "The young men seem to have lost a great deal of their interest and respect for the Order. I think it is so throughout the country. It arises from village ale-shops. Where two years ago none existed, now many may be found.—What shall be done? Such pools of pollution are worse than rum-holes to the bodies and souls of the rising generation, and unless stopped what can we expect of the next generation? Christians are not doing, as a body, what they ought and might, and were there not a God in Heaven, we might despair. Let us work for and believe in Him; and feel that He is able to bring good out of evil, light out of darkness, and can purify the corrupt heart."

These are sentiments to which we can set our seal, and in view of the vast importance of this question and its bearing on our cause, we cannot better employ our spare moments in this city, than in considering the ale question in its varied bearings—moral, social and physical—and endeavor to decide the question of our good brother of Brewer Division—"What shall be done?"

In the gloom which arises from the dark shadows thrown on our path by the topic to which I have alluded, it is pleasant to find some Divisions active in suppressing the liquor traffic. In No. Waldoboro' the law has been enforced, and my Deputy says when once more put in force will wind up the rum-shops there. Heaven speed the "once more."

Bro. Clark, of Harmony, writes:—Our efforts to break up those sinks of pollution and death have succeeded beyond our most sanguine hopes. In fact we have everything to stimulate us to renewed action." Hodgdon Division reports not a rum-shop in town, and a drunken person so rare, that to instruct their young in the horrors of intemperance, they will be compelled to "send to an adjoining town for a specimen inebriate."

Reports like these tell of a vital energy which our enemies may suppose extinct; but it still slumbers, and these torpid volcanoes extend from Katahdin to Agamenticons to the terror of the poison venders of the land.

Our worthy brother Kimball tells us in his report, that the city and rural Divisions in and about Bangor are at work—many brave men have left them for the war, and the fluctuations are many—but on the tented field, and by the fireside, the flag of the Union and our cause are both nobly upheld. We must hail with pleasure the fact that our outermost Division—that at Fort Fairfield, Arcostook Co.—sends glad tidings to us.

Bro. Estabrook reports—"The cause is gaining ground, and the prospect brightening every day, and we hope with the aid of Him who rules the Universe to drive the dread monster from our town and county.

Such notes of gladness from the wild-woods bid us, too, to labor with hearts and hands, like those whose reports I have cited, and others, which for want of space, cannot be inserted here. We need not be dismayed. It is better to have reduced numbers with whole souls, than overflowing houses filled with half-souled men.

It is a cause of regret that our Divisions fail to report anything in connection with literary exercises—one of the most useful auxiliaries of our cause when rightly conducted. At this time of year many are prevented by their business pursuits, from attending, except occasionally, our meetings. Upon such occasions, a good paper or essay prepared by our sisters, would much enhance the interest of the meetings, and at the conclusion of the routine of regular exercises, would very profitably fill up any spare time. In Divisions where well sustained literary exercises exist, a corresponding increase in interest and attendance has been found to result. On the whole this subject cannot be too strongly commended to the attention of all our Divisions.

The momentous subject—the TEMPERANCE Education of our youth, has made little progress, I regret to state, notwithstanding all the G. D. has done to inculcate the necessity of this, as the true elementary system of insuring the future of our State from the ravages of vice, and building up a pure moral sentiment in the minds of the rising generation.

Bro. Taylor of Mount Vernon Division says:—"Our Section of Cadets started May 10th. We have now 83 members and are adding each evening. They are exerting a powerful influence. Oh that every parent could feel that upon the Temperance Education of their offspring, hang the crimes and misery, or the noble deeds and happiness of the next generation. God have mercy, therefore, upon those parents who throw not all the restraints of love and moral influence around their young."

Bro. Taylor says in conclusion: "Our G. D. TALK WELL upon this subject; but why don't they do more? Why don't your talking brothers go home from G. D. and form these Societies? Which is it, fear of man, or absolute want of heart in our cause, that deters them from putting their hands to the plow?"

It will be well for us all to put Bro. Taylor's question to ourselves. We who represent Divisions organized for the spread of temperance principles are accountable for the almost total neglect of those whose young life's footsteps are set in slippery places. Should they fall around us, victims to the curse, what avail will the plea of their youth be to us when the cry goes forth—Cain! Cain! where is thy brother?

You are doubtless aware that the annual session of the National Division of North America was held a few weeks since in Hamilton, C. W., upon which occasion the highest office at the disposal of that assembly was conferred upon our esteemed co-laborer and brother, S. L. CARLETON, P. G. W. P. of this G. D., by his elevation to the truly honorable office of M. W. P. of the National Division of Sons of Temperance in North America.

You will no doubt concur with me, Brothers, when I say that Bro. C. enters upon that arduous service with the best wishes and sincere gratification of our Grand Division; and we sincerely desire, that guided by the Great Patriarch and Supreme Judge of all, his administration may be eminently successful and satisfactory.

The subject of spirit rations in the army and navy, respecting which, by direction of the G. D., I sent a memorial to President Lincoln previous to our last meeting, seems no longer likely to be a source of pain to us. The Special Sanitary Committee of the army before Richmond having decided that much of the illness in camp was caused by the issue of ardent spirits, it has been discontinued, and I am happy to receive information that Congress has finally abolished this obnoxious ration, the issue of which being often under the supervision of true temperance men, placed them in a harassing position. Besides, the ration being served promiscuously to all, the cup was placed too often to the lips of weak brothers, and became a powerful incentive to break their sacred vows.

We can therefore but look upon the action of Congress as a great moral triumph—the ascendancy of common sense and public sentiment over the cruel snares and wiles of our strategic enemy, King Alcohol.

It must have been painfully apparent in time past, to many members of the G. D., that its efficiency for good in advancing the great cause in which we have enlisted, has been frequently crippled for want of funds at its disposal. I therefore suggest the propriety of raising the G. D. dues to five cents per member.

In conclusion, allow me to express the hope that our present session may be harmonious and profitable.

“And may we see
Our holy cause extend,
Until all nations blend,
And one great shout ascend,
Mankind is free!”

Submitted in Love, Purity and Fidelity,

GARDINER, July 25, 1862.

Grand Worthy Patriarch, and Brothers :

For the first time in the history of our Order we meet in this pleasant and beautiful city—may it not be our last meeting here by many. It may seem strange to some that so flourishing a place as this should never have claimed and received the honor of a session of this body, the Order having found an early footing here. The 9th Division in the State was started here. It soon died, and the revival of the Order in Belfast is of comparatively recent date. The fact that we are here now, on the spot where our Order once died, suggests a strong argument in favor of the vitality and permanency of our organization, and its adaptedness to carry forward the cause for which we labor; for though it may wane, or die out even, in one locality, there are always places where its radiant star is brightly shining. Thus, though the Order died out in Belfast, and in Bangor even, it was flourishing finely in Rockland, and continued to flourish till it has covered the whole valley of the Penobscot. If brothers, when their Divisions appear to be “doing no good,” would think of this,—and though it looks dark with them remember that the Star of our Order is shining still brightly, somewhere,—many a discouraged heart would find faith to still hope and press on. The Order once dead here has met a glorious resurrection, and we trust that it is now in such hands that it may fear no second death. May our meeting do much to strengthen it; and let us each try not to do or say anything to mar or weaken it.

Considering that this is the “sickly season” with Divisions, the returns show a not discouraging state of the Order. There are always more delinquencies this quarter than at any other during the year, but we do not show a decrease of members in the Divisions reporting. Some Divisions have reported this quarter that did not last, and some that then reported have not now. We have not returns however from so many Divisions by ten as at our last meeting, and nearly 500 less members are reported.

The National Division held its annual session in Hamilton, C. W. Though meeting on the territory of a foreign power, and one with which not the best feeling has recently existed, we were cordially welcomed, and received nothing but the kindest and most brotherly treatment. We felt that indeed our Order had ties broader and stronger than any nationality. We must confess that we went to that session with many misgivings lest the integrity of the National Division should be destroyed. We were happily disappointed; and we think the bond of union between us and our British brothers stronger now than at any former period. Much work was done at that session, and done harmoniously. A new Constitution and Code of Laws was adopted. It is mainly a compilation of existing decisions, of the old Constitution and of the Revised Rules. The decision of the National Division in regard to dues from delinquent members was repealed, and Divisions are now required to pay dues on all their members. We regret, as no doubt will the whole Order, that declining health has compelled the resignation of our long tried and noble M. W. T. and M. W. S. Of the latter more especially, it may not be unfitting for me to say a word. He had held that office for sixteen years, and left it amid the regrets of those who had known him longest and best. No higher compliment can be paid him. He is a fine specimen of the Christian gentleman and scholar. His reports are models of system, perspicacity of style, purity of language and clearness and range of thought. I bear cheerful testimony to his gentlemanly courtesy, scholarly bearing, modesty, ability and above all, untending integrity and devotedness to the Order. May he regain his health, and live a life full of years and honors. Your body was represented in the N. D. by Bros. Carleton, Jackson and myself. Your delegation received many attentions from our brothers in Montreal, during our short stay there, more especially from Grand Scribe Hall and his son and Grand Conductor Burton. Your delegation feel that their reception was rather intended as an honor paid to this Grand Division than to the humble members representing it; and we accept these courtesies as coming from the Grand Division of Canada East, which should be proud of the manner in which it is represented, and its brotherly courtesies dispensed, by its members in the beautiful city of Montreal.

H. K. MORRELL, Grand Scribe.

Referred to the Committee on Reports.

Adjourned to half-past one o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

G. D. opened in due form—officers present as in the forenoon.

Grand Scribe read report of Bro. Nye, chairman of the Committee appointed at last session to confer with a committee of the G. D. of Mass., in relation to establishing a paper, to the effect that he had conferred with said committee, and at once came to the conclusion that action was inexpedient. Report accepted.

On motion of Bro. Jones of Lewiston, the Grand Conductor was requested to wait upon the M. W. P. and M. W. S. and inform them that the G. D. was in session.

Grand Lecturer reported :

Officers and Brothers of the Grand Division :

Since the last meeting of the Grand Division, I have visited Cumberland, Sagadahoc, Lincoln, Knox, Waldo, Hancock, Washington, Aroostook, Piscataquis, Penobscot and Somerset counties, travelling about 1200 miles and lecturing 90 times.

The Order in Aroostook county is nearly extinct. There are, I think, but two live Divisions in the county, but one of which has held regular meetings. There are nevertheless, many excellent temperance men and women in the valley of the Aroostook, who may be safely counted on, for any practicable labor in the temperance enterprise.

In Washington county the meetings are well sustained, in most places where Divisions have been instituted. In some Divisions there has been a more general interest during the past year than ever before.

In Piscataquis county several Divisions have suspended meetings, and may be considered dead; others are doing well. Several Divisions have been better attended during the summer than at any period in their history.

On the whole, I am led to believe that while our Divisions and membership may be less than at the commencement of the year, the loss has been in load rather than in motive power.

So far as I have the means of knowing, the success of the Order in saving those who have joined it after having acquired a strong appetite for alcoholic liquors, has been very limited. I can see but little hopes of saving inebriates by any influence we can throw around them, so long as we place the drunkard's drink within their reach, either for medicinal, mechanical or other purposes, and I hope this Order will soon be prepared to so amend its pledge as to strike out the words "as a beverage" and thereby cease attempting to do what no human being has been found capable of doing : to regulate the sale and use of intoxicating liquors. Every glass of liquor placed within the reach of the person who has acquired an appetite for alcoholic liquors, endangers his safety; and in my judgment, any law, or any pledge, providing for the sale and use of liquors for any purpose, must in the nature of the case be a failure, unless it should provide that every glass shall contain poison enough to kill a man as quick as a stroke of lightning.

I would as soon be responsible for the consequences of liquor sold at any grog-shop, as at a legally authorized and regulated agency and shall hereafter, as heretofore, advise the selectmen of towns not to appoint an agent, for the reason that I do not believe there is a suitable person for that business in any town. The medicinal use of alcoholic liquors in the army and out of it, in my judgment, is doing more to perpetuate intemperance, at the present time, than any other influence, and I shall govern myself accordingly in my lectures and other efforts.

Respectfully submitted in L., P. & P.,

B. COLBY, Grand Lecturer.

Referred to Committee on Reports.

Grand Conductor reported that he had informed the M. W. P. and M. W. S. that the G. D. was in session, and that said officers were waiting in the ante-room. They were received with due honors.

Bro. Vose read communication—referred to a special committee consisting of Bros. Colby, Donnell and Hichborn.

Said committee reported :

Your committee to whom was referred the communication of Bro. Vose, inquiring what shall be done with the 200 copies of the Youth's Temperance Visitor subscribed for by this Grand Division, have had the subject under consideration, and beg leave to recommend that Bro. Vose be requested to send a copy to each clergyman in the State, with the request that it be put into the Sabbath school under his charge.

We may be permitted to add that we heartily rejoice that Bro. Vose has been successful in securing the number of subscribers that warrants the publication of the Visitor, and hope every brother and sister will do what they can to aid him in his noble enterprise.

(Signed by the com.)

B. COLBY, Chairman.

Accepted.

Adjourned to 8 o'clock, to-morrow morning.

SECOND DAY—MORNING SESSION.

Opened by the G. W. P.—officers and officers pro tem. present same as yesterday.

Committee on reports' reported :

The Committee on Reports have attended to the duty assigned them, and submit the following :

That so much of the G. W. P.'s Report as relates to the use of ale and beer be referred to the committee appointed at the April session at Kendall's Mills to report at this session.

That the suggestion to raise the Dues—this Grand Division not being competent to take action at a quarterly session—be referred to the Annual Session, and that Subordinate Divisions be requested to take action and report it with their returns.

That the Report be adopted.

That the financial part of the Report of the G. S. be referred to the Committee on Finance. The Report as usual is important, and we recommend its adoption.

The Grand Lecturer's Report shows a large amount of labor, and we commend him in his laborious work to all members and visitors wherever he may hereafter go in his labor of love. We do not wonder that he is discouraged when he finds so many of our reformed men who have fallen by reason of the temptation in their way.

Your Committee, individually, would be willing to amend the pledge, but would recommend that the subject of amendment of the pledge and the subject of agencies be referred to the Subordinate Divisions for discussion and action, believing that from the importance of the subject, it should be agitated throughout our entire jurisdiction, looking to future action upon the subject.

(Signed by the com.)

JOHN S. KIMBALL, Chairman.

Adopted.

The Committee on Finance reported :

The Committee on Finance have examined the financial part of the report of the G. S., and find it correct.

They also have examined and approve the bill of A. M. C. Heath of $32.50 for printing.

(Signed by the com.)

A. M. JONES, Chairman.

Adopted.

Bro. Bryant offered the following :

Resolved, That the appointment of Officers in the army who use intoxicating liquors receives, as such appointments deserve, the condemnation of the Grand Division of Maine.

Adopted.

Bro. Morrell offered the following :

Resolved, That this Grand Division deems the Temperance education of the community the first duty of our Order, and as a means of accomplishing this duty, they consider that our principles should be disseminated in every section of our State.

Resolved, That we believe that the Order in this State is amply able to support a Lecturer, who shall devote his whole energies to the work, and who shall not be obliged to pass round the contribution box in order to get a subsistence.

Resolved, That in order to test the opinion of the Order at large, the following questions be submitted to each Division, and their action thereon before the next session of this body requested :

QUESTIONS. Are you in favor of Bro. Benj. Colby's keeping the field in Maine as a Temperance Lecturer, during the coming year commencing with Nov. 1, 1862?

Will you pledge yourselves as a Division ten cents per member for each of your members to make up his salary; and pay said amounts in two equal installments at the time of making the December and October terms?

If not in favor of Bro. Colby's being employed as a Lecturer, are you in favor of any other person's being employed?

Adopted.

Committee on the State of the Order reported :

Your Committee on the State of the Order having given to the duty assigned to them such consideration as the very limited time at their disposal would permit, submit the following report :

Your Committee regard the condition of the Order in our jurisdiction as by no means discouraging, considering the circumstances under which we labor, and we rejoice in the grateful conviction that our organization is being sustained even more fully and efficiently than we could hope, through this time of the nation's trial.

The report of the Grand Scribe shows that 15 Divisions have been stricken from our list since the last quarterly report, but it should be borne in mind that this diminution in the nominal number of Divisions has subtracted nothing from our actual strength during the year. These Divisions had been dead branches for several quarters previous to our last session, and were then lopped off, that they might no longer impede the healthful growth of the tree. But it is to be noticed that the number of Divisions that have made returns to this session is 10 less than the number which reported last quarter. The number of Divisions which reported for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1861, was 122; the number reported in April was 186, and the present number reporting is 126. Therefore, it will be seen that while there has been a falling off in the reports during the last quarter, the number reporting is still greater than for the last quarter of 1861.

We wish to call attention, however, to the proverbial neglect of a large percentage of our Divisions to make their quarterly returns. There are 48 Divisions now delinquent in this respect, for a time varying from one to six quarters each. We believe that the serious attention of the Grand Division should be directed to the removal of this evil, until it is effectually remedied and our Divisions brought up to the prompt performance of their duty in this respect.

We repeat the grateful recognition everywhere made of the zeal of the lady visitors in our jurisdiction, and the value of their services in prosecuting the noble work of our Order. And we repeat the conviction of the necessity of a more definite recognition of the connection of lady visitors with the Order by the National Division, and the guaranty to them by that body, by uniform constitutional provisions, of those privileges which, by usage or special enactments, they enjoy in many or most of our Divisions. A resolution is on the journal of your last session, instructing the delegates of this body in the National Division on that subject, and we recommend that the Grand Division renew that instruction to its representatives until the object is fully accomplished.

We are pleased to call the attention of the G. D. to the fact that the National Division, at its late session, provided for the election of three lady officers by subordinate Divisions and furnished forms for installing them. These officers are two lady Sentinels, to serve at the ladies' entrance, in Divisions which are provided with separate ante-rooms for the sisters, and a Conductress to officiate in the introduction and initiation of lady candidates. This provision goes into effect at the beginning of the next quarter, and we trust that all our Divisions will be ready to adopt it, believing that the interest and efficiency of the Divisions will be thereby promoted.

We also wish to add our strong approval of the remarks of the G. W. P. as to Literary Exercises in our Divisions. We will not take space to set forth the advantages of this practice, but we ask that the G. D. strongly recommend the adoption of the G. W. P.'s suggestions in this respect.

We also recommend that the G. D. earnestly urge upon the members and visitors of our Divisions the duty of efforts for the thorough temperance education of children and youth. We would urge first the importance of thorough temperance training of children in temperance families, where we feel that the duty is often too slightly performed; and, secondly, the formation of juvenile temperance societies in all our towns and villages. In the latter work all that is needed is the services of a few adult friends of the cause to devote themselves to this work, for a few hours in each week or fortnight. Temperance men and women will thus secure incalculable benefits to their own children, and by taking the lambs of their flock in our arms we may lead many who are now wandering in the barren ways of intemperance into the green pastures and by the still waters where Temperance leads her followers. And we urge upon our membership the duty of hearty co-operation in extending the circulation of the Youth's Temperance Visitor as a means of promoting this work. Let members first subscribe for it themselves and then use their influence to increase its circulation in their several localities.

Your Committee earnestly urge upon the attention of our Divisions and membership the duty of supporting the Maine Temperance Journal. The Journal is now the only temperance paper in New England, is thoroughly devoted to the cause and to the interests of the Order, and conducted by a veteran in our ranks, and should be heartily supported, not only by good wishes and fair words, but by cash-in-advance subscriptions. The importance of efforts for the promotion of temperance in the army, cannot be overlooked or over-estimated, and your Committee have reason to believe that the circulation of the Journal in our Maine regiments is having an important influence.

The publisher of the Journal has been heretofore authorized to send to each Maine regiment in the National service ten copies of the paper for six months, at the expense of the Grand Division. The time for which the paper was ordered has expired. We were prepared to recommend a second appropriation for the same object, but learning that the condition of the treasury at the present time will not justify the expenditure, we recommend instead, that this body request each Division immediately to open a subscription for the purpose of furnishing the Journal to the Maine regiments, and to forward the amount subscribed to Bro. Thorndike to be used for this purpose.

(Signed by the Committee.)

S. L. CARLETON, Chairman.

Adopted.

The following resolutions offered by Bro. Bell were adopted :

Whereas, the National Division of the Sons of Temperance of North America, at its last session, held at Hamilton, C. W., elevated our highly esteemed brother, S. L. Carleton, to the dignified and honorable office of Most Worthy Patriarch,

Resolved, That this Grand Division appreciates the honor conferred upon the Order in this State, by the selection of one of our earnest-laborers for this high position, and accepts it as a new motive for sustaining the Order in its fullest efficiency within our jurisdiction.

Resolved, That we congratulate our Brother upon the recognition, by so eminent a body as the National Division, of his long and able services in the cause.

The following resolutions offered by Bro. Carleton were adopted :

Resolved, That the thanks of this Grand Division be and hereby are given to Belfast Division and the people of the city, for the very kind and hospitable reception given us, and we can but hope that the occasion to reciprocate their many courtesies may soon come.

Resolved, That we again thank B. H. CUSHMAN, Superintendent of the Kennebec and Portland Railroad for his generosity towards the Representatives of this body, and we trust that the road under his supervision may meet with its justly deserved prosperity.

On motion,

Voted, That the sum of Twenty-five Dollars be appropriated, as part payment to Bro. Thorndike for papers furnished to Maine regiments.
